

Live Power®

MINUTE BY MINUTE MARKET INSIGHTS

With today's rapidly changing grid, decision makers in the market need instant visibility into what's happening to stay a step ahead of market moves.

Live Power® delivers fastest-in-industry reporting of generation and transmission flow data. Real-time data is delivered every 60 seconds and fully integrated within Yes Energy® power analytic tools, providing unparalleled visibility into the supply side of the equation.

With superior coverage of the most relevant plant and transmission flow measurements, Live Power captures today's most important market dynamics.

Capabilities

- See online/offline dispatchable capacity and unit-by-unit output to track day-ahead unit commitment and evaluate day-ahead to real-time spreads
- See inter-zone transmission flow to spot real-time congestion
- See renewable production on the geographic "edges" of the market, a leading indication of changes in ISO-wide fleet performance
- See sudden plant and line outages to explain unexpected scarcity pricing
- See long-term views of transmission flows to forecast future congestion
- Capture today's grid flows to calibrate models daily with the latest plant/line data
