UNLOCKING REAL-TIME, ACTIONABLE POWER MARKET INSIGHTS

In nodal power markets, everything can change in a second. In this quick-moving and volatile environment, real-time traders and asset operators need quick data that keeps them ahead of the markets.

QuickSignals® by Yes Energy translates market noise into timely, actionable, and customizable insight. QuickSignals allows you to configure custom dashboards highlighting the data points you care about in your decision to enter or exit a position. Low-latency data delivery straight to your dashboard enables you to stay on top of market opportunities as they materialize in real-time.

QuickSignals is integrated with our PowerSignals® solution, making it easy to drill down from a single tick in your QuickSignals dashboard to the robust history and analytics available in PowerSignals.

Capabilities

- High speed ISO market monitoring
- Custom alerts to keep up with critical events
- Configure an unlimited number of dashboards
- Create hundreds of key market indicators
- Stay connected with QuickSignals mobile

What Customers Say

"The QuickSignals product offers a great deal of customizability and rapid data that we find incredibly beneficial... We depend on the Yes Energy suite of products to do a lot of our analysis. They have really enabled us to accelerate our growth and focus on areas that are our core competencies and strengths."
